“BUILDING UP A SPIRITUAL HOUSE”
“CHOSEN PRECIOUS”
I PETER 2:5

“The Only Way”
by James McCaleb

Usually when a crisis arises, we are anything but happy. Each emergency brings a feeling of anxiety and unrest. There is a decision to make, or a shock to take. It is natural and normal to be anxious.

Paul had found the better way; in fact, it is the only true way. We are to be anxious about nothing, but must pray about every situation, and give thanks for whatever transpires. For we know that if we love God, all things work together for our good.

The key to the whole matter is our love for God. If we love Him, we will keep His commandments, and these commandments will not be grievous to us. We will also accept gracefully the results of those commandments. We will be content to live the life God has mapped out and to accept the chastisements that come our way to keep us in line. We may be sure that God will not allow His children to stray without using the discipline that His love dictates.

The trouble with most of us is that we want to hang on to God with one hand and still retain a firm hold on all that the world offers us. It is a natural desire, but one that won't work. We live in the world and are part of it. Fleshly desires and affections find temporary satisfaction in the material things that are around us. The life with God is lived on a plane above these things. One has to be convinced that God is what He says He is, and that it is worth our while to follow Him.

I do not pretend to know all about life and living. I do know, however, that God has the only way, and that way there is no real happiness unless one finds that way.

Did You Know....Have you already heard the phrase “I’m bored” from your kids this summer?

Children aren't likely to change their diets or activity habits on their own. In fact, one in three kids is now considered overweight or obese in the U.S. As parents, it's up to us to make it easy for our kids to make healthy choices. Creating simple healthy habits will go a long way to helping your family embrace a healthy summer.

Consider:

Reducing the amount of junk food in the house, Having healthy snacks readily available, Limiting your children's screen time, Scheduling active family time
Plant veggies (cucumbers, peas, tomatoes) or herbs in a garden or large pot. Your kids can help tend to them, water them, watch them grow and eat them when they're ripe.
Take your kids for a bike ride in a different neighborhood using maps to learn about navigation. Master the jump rope. Games, songs, twirling techniques – proof, once again, the simplest toys can provide hours of fun! Here is a helpful video with some tips to get you started. Dance in the rain. Surprise your kids by taking them outside during a gentle summer shower. Dance around in swimsuits, catch raindrops in your mouth, and jump in all the puddles. Hold a car wash. Park your car in the driveway and let your child give it a good scrub with a pot of soapy water and a garden hose. Maybe initiate a weekly wash where neighbors can take advantage as well, staying safely inside their cars for social distancing. Perhaps a way for the kiddos to earn a little spending money? Geocaching is another great outdoor activity. You might be asking what is geocaching? It's basically the world's largest treasure hunt – learn more about the sport and where are good places to go geocaching in Michigan.
Go swimming at a local pool as they begin to open up, a family member or friend's pool.

not seen and yet have believed.

“The One Thing Lacking”
Mark 10:17-21

Introduction

- A. If there was just one thing lacking in your life that would prevent you from gaining eternal life, what would it be?
- B. If you are not certain what that one thing lacking that would prevent you from gaining eternal life, would you allow someone who knows to tell you?
- C. The person who know exactly the one thing lacking that prevents us from gaining eternal life is God! God’s word reveals...

Sermon

I. Some Lack Precepts

II. Some Lack Humility

III. Some Lack Revelation

Conclusion

- 1. Biblically, some lacked precepts, humility, and revelation!
- 2. We need to find the one thing that may be preventing us from gaining eternal life!

Mark 10:17-21 King James Version (KJV)

¹⁷ And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?
¹⁸ And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.
¹⁹ Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.
²⁰ And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.
²¹ Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.
