Colossians 1:9-10

Unused

by James McCaleb

Perhaps most people who have been brought up frugally have developed a tendency to nurse their most prized possessions. Quality items were scarce, and appreciated even beyond their worth.

I have a dozen or more beautiful ties that were nursed along in this fashion. They were much too good for me, and I knew it. Unfortunately, fashions change. The ties are in style no longer and lie on a shelf in a kind of outmoded grandeur. They are of no current practical value.

We are prone to make the same mistakes in the use of our talents and opportunities. Always there looms ahead of is the gran opportunity, the great event. We nurse along our resources for the special occasion that never arrives. That energy and ability that we have cherished lie unused and useless upon the shelf. Perhaps many of life's failures can be attributed to this dangerous tendency. (next page)

In God's kingdom we are inclined to wait also. The days go by and we still have not found the perfect congregation or the perfect media for the use of our talents. The little day-to-day jobs do not seem worth-while; also, they are somewhat tiring and monotonous. Eventually our generations have passed on and we are left embittered and disillusioned.

"I must work the work of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh when no man can work." – John 9:4

Healthcare Information

Did You Know.....Diabetes is one of the leading causes of disability and death in the United States. It can cause blindness, nerve damage, kidney disease, and other health problems if it's not controlled. One in 10 Americans have diabetes — that's more than 30 million people. And another 84 million adults in the United States are at high risk of developing type 2 diabetes. The good news? People who are at high risk for type 2 diabetes can lower their risk. Seeing All Things From God's Point of View

November 17, 2019

God's View On Doing Good Works

The Works That Follow

Revelation 14:13

Introduction

- A. When death comes, many preachers are known to preach people right into heaven.
- B. Often, as the dead are laid before many preachers, in life they made little to no effort religiously.
- C. And the preacher recites cherished verses of the Bible over one's life such as, "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them."
- D. The works of men are numerous and to be admired, but in death they are powerless a part from Christ. When death comes, preachers will say, "Here lies..."

Sermon

I. A Good Person

II. A Just Person

III. An Asset To The Community

Conclusion

- 1. At death, commending a person's life work is acceptable...
- 2. But, it is evident from the text that the works that follow into eternity apply only...
- 3. Without obedient faith, the numerous, admirable works of men are powerless...
